A Reserveir of Water Found in the Desert of Sahara.

Will Probably Tend to Increase the Caravan Trade.

PARIS, April 10. A dispatch from Seine says that an enormous reservoir of water one hundred and twenty feet below the surface has been discovered at El-Golea, a small caravan station in the midst of the Sahara Desert.

The reservoir was discovered white a number of workmen were engaged in sucting a well at El-Golea.

The shaft already gives fifty gallons of good clear water per minute, and it is expected that this amount can readily be increased should it be found that a larger quantity is necessary.
